DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. Claims 5-7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 5, depending from claim 1, is considered confusing. Lines 19-35, the claim introduces an upper pivot hinge assembly structure, which is identical to that of claim 1, into the embodiment. It is not clear how the upper pivot hinge assembly in claim 5 can be structurally incorporated into claim 1. For clarity, applicant is advised to rewritten claim 5 in independent form.

Further, lines 13-15, it is not clear how the assemblies are structurally related to the doorplate or the door frame to render the assemblies operable. The assemblies is not stated as being structurally linked to the door/frame. What is meant by "around a pivot axis located near a jamb"?

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

4. Claims 1-4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Hwang (6,205,616). Note embodiment shown in figures 3A and 3B. The top of pin 22 has smaller diameter.

5. Claims 1- 4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Matyas (3,511,300). See figure 4, '300 has a body 65, a flange 20, a closure (defined by 57, 66).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

6. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

7. Claim5 5-7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Matyas '300.

Matyas '300 discloses the invention as claimed but for a elastic member urging the pin downward. That is, reversing the locations of the hinge pin(20) and pin-receiving recess (21). It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to locate the hinge pin in the track and the recess in the door such that the spring biases downward, since it has been held that rearranging parts of an invention involves only routine skill in the art. In re Japikse, 86 USPQ 70.

As to claims 6 and 7, It would have been an obvious matter of design choice to utilize the track or the door frame as a closure to provide support for the spring, since applicant has not disclosed that the track or the frame closing the holder solves any stated problem or is for any particular purpose and it appears that '300, closed by a annular projection, would perform equally well. In re Kuhle, 188 USPQ 7.

Conclusion

8. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
